

LEARNING ALLY

www.learningally.org

In The Classroom

Learning Ally gives students who may be struggling access to books they need and want to read but, are unsuccessful due to reading deficits. These audiobooks are curriculum-aligned textbooks and literature.

At Home

With the help of real people recording audiobooks, students can read independently and reach their highest level of success.

At College

Learning Ally aids college students audiobooks, online resources, and support tools to help students succeed their college journey and to prepare for the future.

What is Learning Ally?

Learning Ally is nonprofit educational organization to help school-age children and adults who are struggling learning by giving them the tools to reach their greatest potential. Learning Ally is a program that contains thousands of audiobooks that students can listen to when reading books. Students will improve their grades, score higher on test, gain confidence and self-esteem will rise.

Who does Learning Ally help?

Learning Ally serves students who are dyslexic, blind, and visually-impaired. Learning Ally also helps students who are at risk for failing or under grade level. These students can be at risk of behaviors for dropping out of school which would cause low position careers in the

How can Learning Ally help struggling reader?

A. Grades 3-5

It will build a foundation of learning for students to read independently and increase self-confidence.

- Students will have access to thousands of audiobooks that are aligned with state standards.
- It will also build background knowledge skills in vocabulary and reading comprehension.

B. Grades 6-8

It gives students the tools to stay on grade level within their reading ability as their peers.

- Students will have access to grade level ELA books that are popular and within the core curriculum content.
- It will also build skills in vocabulary, reading comprehension, and critical-thinking.

C. Grades 9-12

It provides core content access that will prepare students are graduate college and to be career reading.

- It will build stamina and ability to help student be successful on heavy workloads.

future. Learning Ally is gear to help these students who are struggling in school. They will support struggling students to become independent and to gain social, emotional, and academical knowledge. Learning Ally also gives students the tools to help them overcome their learning difference to achieve in school and gain confidence within themselves.

